

If God truly exists, then why does He let so much suffering happen?