

People who follow the Old Testament law are not true Christians